Your industrial projects, reimagined.

Whether you're managing the turnover of an oil refinery or you're commissioning a new manufacturing facility, Procore provides an all-in-one construction platform— giving you visibility into every step of the process.

Collaborate Across Teams

On complex projects with many different vendors and tight timelines, Procore lets you seamlessly collaborate with everyone in a single platform.
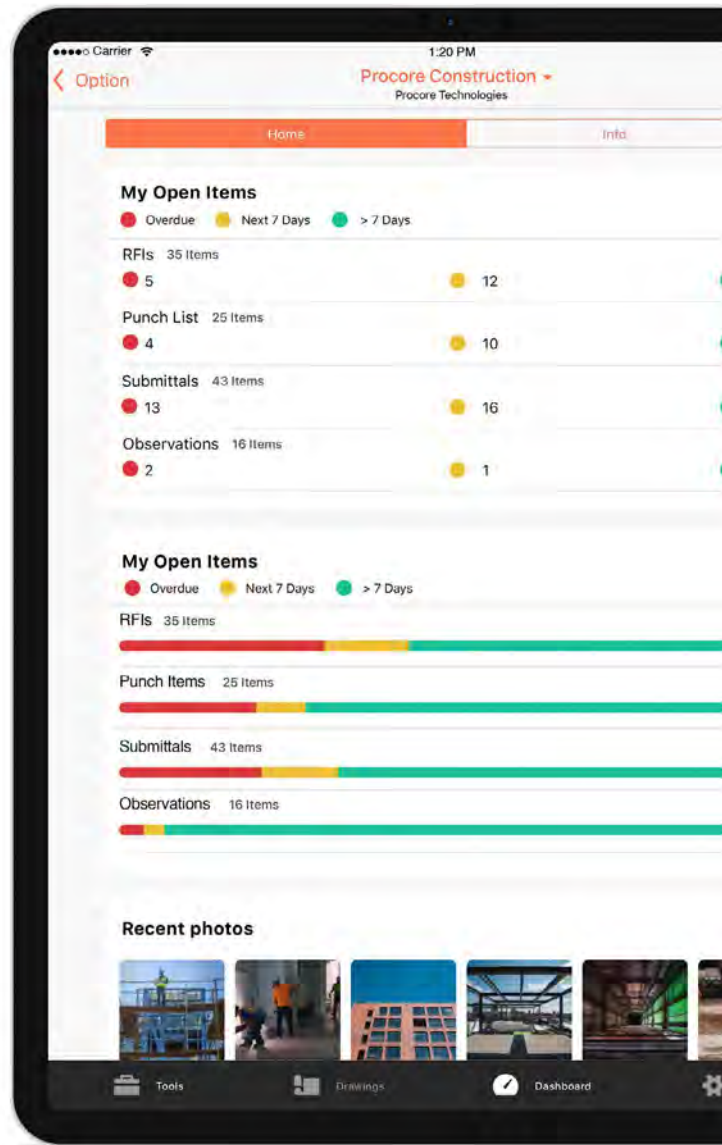

Create Consistency And Take Control

No matter the project, use Procore to build standardized processes, ensuring everything that gets done in your facilities is up to your standard.

Reduce Project Risk

With real-time insights into every project, understand the impact your decisions have on the schedule and budget, and use advanced analytics to ward off problems before they happen.

"We purchased Procore so, at the end of the day, we'd have a uniform system that we could go back to. We told all of our GCs, 'Hey, if you want to build with us, you have to use Procore.'"

Manage the most complex jobs on one easy-to-use platform.

Your industrial, manufacturing, and energy projects—from oil refineries to auto manufacturers and data centers—are bringing the resources needed to power the communities around us. You require, and deserve, only the best solutions. Empower your team with the insights they need to keep every project moving smoothly.

Collaboration is the name of the game.

With dozens or sometimes even hundreds of people working on your project, it's critical that everyone stays on the same page.

+ Shorten the feedback loop between question and answer.
+ Provide contractors the information they need to do their jobs right the first time.

Get the job done right. Every time.

Whether your contractors are inspecting 1,000 welds or installing 10,000 computer servers, the ultimate responsibility falls on you. Make sure every element is completed to your quality standards.

+ Manage a consistent inspection, punch list, and closeout process.
+ Maintain consistent document management hierarchy across all jobs.

Stay ahead of risk.

Your jobsites are complex environments with little wiggle-room when it comes to the big three: schedule, budget, and quality. With Procore you can track budgets, avoid overspend, mitigate vendor errors, and ultimately, ensure success.

+ Get the details right with checklists, inspections, and punch lists.
+ Understand the impact any changes will have on your overall budget.
